

Matt Huston

Matt Huston (He/Him/His) is a proud queer, Chicago-based (but Wisconsin-raised) employee development and DEIB professional. He is also a proud Badger alum (BBA '12) having obtained his Bachelors in Marketing and Psychology from UW. He earned a Masters in Organizational Psychology from University of Hartford. He currently works as an Organizational Development Specialist for Ryan Specialty where he also serves as a co-lead for a Multicultural Alliance employee resource group. In addition, he facilitates with a national DEIB club and presents on a variety of soft skills including leadership, communication, career development, burnout, and bias, all through a DEIB lens. He is a forever learner, striving to meet people where they are, and empowering them to achieve their highest potential.